Fifty cents for your old straw hat. Lamore's.

Our $3.00 wash dresses reduced to $1.98 at Perry's on Saturday.

See the funeral of the Vera Cruz heroes, held at New York City, in moving pictures at the Pavilion.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Walker of Mount street died at 5 o'clock this morning. The funeral will be private. No flowers.

A number of Spaulding high school teachers left this morning at 8:15 o'clock for North Duxbury, where they will attempt the ascent of Camel's Hump. The party planned to proceed by carriage from the North Duxbury station to Calahan's, near the base of the mountain.

It was expected that the Hump would be reached in the middle of the afternoon. The teachers will return to Barre late this evening.

At a recent meeting of the North Barre D. C. V. club an organization was effected and preparations were made for putting a baseball team into the field.

Kio Grani, last year's efficient manager, was again elected to that position and Ugo Ramella was appointed captain.

Among junior teams in the city, the D. C. V. is expected to take its usual prominent part the coming season and the manager is making an effort to arrange a large number of games. Manager Grani may be found at the D. C. V. club on Berlin street on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings or at his home on Granite street at other times.

From last year's aggregation of players may be chosen a strong nucleus of players, among whom are Ramella, Grani, Giachero, Delfo, Rahigli, Harry Colombo, Charles Sassi, and Brusa. The club will hold nightly practice at the I. A. C. field.

Automobilists are rejoicing over the recent action of the street department in repairing that stretch of highway between Wiley street and the Wells-Lamson plant, so-called. All spring the street has been so ridden with holes and water bars that motoring there has been anything but a pleasure.

Only a few days ago it was designated as the second worst piece of highway between Burlington and White River Junction. This observation came from the county supervisor of highways and the street committee was not slow in acting on the supervisor's suggestion that the road be rehabilitated. At a moderate expense the entire strip has been improved, although the resurfacing originally contemplated has been postponed. With the exception of South Main street, which appears to be covered with warts and indentations, Barre's main artery of travel cannot be surpassed in this section. The committee contemplates temporary improvements on the South Main street road as far south as the bridge.

Graniteville.

F. E. Dexter of Canton, N. Y., manager of the St. Lawrence university baseball team, arrived in the city last night for a few days' visit. While in the city he will make efforts to secure a game with Goddard seminary while that team is on an invasion through this territory later in the season.

Among those who registered as guests at The Buzzell hotel yesterday were: F. E. Dexter, Canton, N. Y.; W. E. Burdell, Woodsville, N. H.; A. L. Cameron and wife, Burlington; W. R. Fletcher, Boston; J. J. Lawton, Bolton; O. Eklat, South Boston; J. E. Dempsey, St. Albans; fourteen members of the St. Albans high school baseball team.

Notification was received in the city yesterday by S. Hollister Jackson, who represents the petitioners in the hearing before the public service commission of Vermont, pertaining to the abolition of the so-called workmen's tickets on the Barre & Montpelier Traction company, of the indefinite continuance of the hearing. The hearing was held in the city courtroom a couple of weeks ago and was adjourned to Tuesday, May 26.

J. P. Rook of Lyndonville, state inspector for the eastern district of all bee hives and colonies, arrived in the city yesterday and went to East Barre, where he looked over a number of apiaries.

To-day Inspector Rook spent the day at Judge H. W. Scott's colonies on the Montpelier road. While numerous bee-keepers in southern Vermont have suffered the loss of valuable colonies through the cold winter, there are few apiarists in this section who lost so much as a single bee. One prominent apiarist is minus a colony that he lost through experimenting, but the cold weather, so far as he has been able to learn, did not affect his honey-makers.

Inspector Rook makes a rigid inspection of bees, for the purpose of regulating the production of honey and to preserve the highest principles of sanitation among the bees.

To-day marks the beginning of the Vermont state soccer football season, although the first league game will not be played for several days. This forenoon automobiles left the city for Hardwick, carrying as passengers that rugged aggregation of football men known as the Boneheads.

They are to line up against the Hardwick team this afternoon at 3 o'clock. A despatch in the Hardwick Gazette says that the home team has not been resting on its oars since the snow left the ground and a warm reception for the Barre pigskin chasers is promised. Thus far the final arrangements for the formation of a league have not been completed, but committees from Hardwick and the several teams in Barre and Barre Town have already got together on tentative plans. It is proposed to establish a league that will be patterned after the successful combination that raced for the state championship last year. Although a soccer football league was a new departure, the promoters feel so satisfied with the outcome of the schedule in 1913 that they have been persuaded to make a second attempt this year.

Later The Times will announce in full the schedule for the summer.

Special convocation of Granite lodge, No. 35, F. and A. M., Monday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother, William Brown.

Members of Clan Gordon are requested to meet at the clan rooms Monday at 1 p. m. for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother, William Brown.

George LaCasse of Derby Line arrived in the city to-day to make an extended visit as the guest of Lawton Witt at Goddard seminary. LaCasse graduated from Goddard seminary last June.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelley returned to-day from Burlington, where they have been passing a few weeks. They were called to Burlington by the serious illness and death of Mrs. John F. Kelley, mother of Mr. Kelley, which occurred this week.

Friends in this city will regret to learn that Bernard Lee, the Tufts captain and former Goddard star, is incapacitated from playing at the present by injuries. The loss of Capt. Lee at this stage of the season and together with that of Stafford, the second sacker, is keenly felt by the Tufts team. Lee is out of the game with injuries to his legs.

Manager Levin of the Spaulding high school baseball team announced the schedule of games to be played by the Spaulding team during the coming week.

On Tuesday Montpelier seminary is played at Montpelier. On Wednesday the Montpelier high school is played for the first time. The week's battle against St. Albans high school at St. Albans.

Patrick Massie was the principal figure in a surprise party tendered at the home of his parents, 69 Maple avenue, last evening at 8 o'clock. Young Mr. Massie entertained not so much as an inkling of what was in the air until he opened the door of his home in response to a turn of the door bell. In trooped some thirty of the young man's boy and girl companions. He was in the hands of his friends. An entirely informal program of games, music and readings was one of the evening's features. Representing the company, Alfred Milne arose from his seat in the middle of the program and presented the host a handsome signet ring as a token of esteem from those who had gathered there. The recipient made a proper response. Refreshments of ice cream and cake, punch and wafers were served. A committee of young people had the affair in charge.
